

Jeannine Palozzi

Jeannine incorporated Double Deuce Farm in 2004. A graduate of Ohio State's Equine Production and Management program, she has worked hard over the years to build her business up to its current status and remains intent on maintaining a quality program. She takes a hand on approach in overseeing the day to day operations at the barn regarding lessons, training, and care of the boarder horses.

Jeannine teaches both Hunt Seat and Western lessons and also coaches the Farm's two IEA teams. She has coached numerous riders to championships at USEF rated shows, and has had riders win year end awards in OPHA and Up + Over divisions. Her IEA teams have also won regional and zone Championships, as well as individual rider Championships at IEA National Finals in both Hunt Seat and Western disciplines.

Jeannine has several years' experience judging 4-H and open shows, and directed her 4-H judging team to Reserve Championship in Senior Division at State Finals. She is an active member of the Up + Over Board of Directors, she currently serves on the IEA Zone 5 Rules and Ethics Committee, and is also a 4-H advisor.

All this being said, Jeannine takes pride in providing a friendly atmosphere at Double Deuce Farm. She enjoys teaching small children during their first few lessons and watching them develop into confident and competent riders, as well as working with adults and her more advanced riders at horse shows. Jeannine has made it a point to make the program at Double Deuce Farm a progressive program where riders have the opportunity to learn and move up through the ranks and they develop their knowledge and horsemanship skills.
